

Am F5 Dm F5
 Fear closes, fear poisons the heart
 X

Intro: open barre Fm at F4 (from capo) Am(F5), Dm(F5)

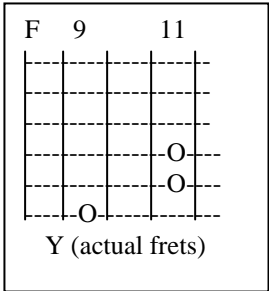

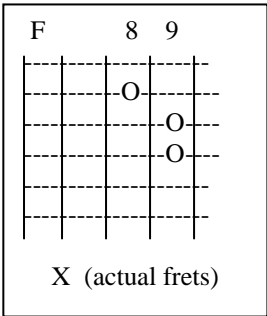

And opens the arsenal of death
 Am F5 Dm F5
 Cutting deeper into the wounds of the Earth
 X

Fear closes, fear poisons the heart
 A C A A C A A D

Struggling to survive since our birth.

What is it we are on this Earth for?
 F# G

Y Y+2 (= slide Y up to frets)
 What is it we are on this Earth for?
 Y Y+2
 Is it really to fight a never-ending war?

No, no, no, we don't want war.
 || C F G F :||
 What we want is.. || love, sweet, sweet love. :||

If you're walking alone
 E F G -----

2 C F
 If you're walking alone or walking with Jesus
 G F
 Or sitting in front of some old geezer
 C F G
 In a white cloak, sitting on a throne
 F C F
 And you're still living in fear of other people
 G F
 Who are worshiping a different geezer,
 C F G
 Then there's something you ought'a know.

Creating fear is a useful means of steering people into conflict
 (By the way, there is an updated version of this song)

1 F C F G F C F G
 Open the door and walk into the light
 F C F G F C F G F
 Open your heart, there's no need to fight. 2nd time »

C F
 || 'Cos when heart meets heart, you will find
 G F
 The enemy was the one inside
 C F G F
 Poisoning your soul with his lies :|| » 1

If you're walking... to END then: || Open the door, walk into the light....:|| FADE (G)

I have included the main chords all measured from the capo as the base point – unless stated otherwise. Am (F5) = play Am at the 5th fret from the capo. Because I cannot effectively read or write music notation, I often use diagrams to show frets and strings. The "extra" first line shows the notes sung, relative to the capo as the base point.
