

|| G C :||

G C D G
It's a quarter to five and bird-song warms the dawn cold
G C D G
As the sunrise strokes you gently.... and turns your skin to gold

It's a quarter to five
B B B A B C

C D
When I lay me down and gently breath
C D
There flows a feeling of beauty that warms me through
C D
I don't know what to call it... but I'm so tha---nkful
G C D G
It brought me love, light and peace in the form of you.

INTRO start: (actual frets)
S2 F9 8 6 3 + bounce S1 F9,8,6,4
S5 F8 6 4 2
Then Am7, G

Play: G
Capo:1
Sing: Ab

G C D G
Often in the night, the veil of sleep falls away
G C D G
And I kiss your shoulder gently and watch your body smile

Bridge

Am D
And even if a dagger of sharp and bitter words from the past
Am Em D
Has been thrust into a forgotten wound in the heart
Dm E
And even if we're pushed apart, to where we cannot feel,
C D E
We know our love..... has time to heal.

And even if a dagger
B -----C C

|| G C D G :||

G C D G
Oh, I'm no great believer in the lies of men
G C D G
Who use the name of God to cause so much pain and suffering

C D
For when I lay me down and gently breath
C D
There flows a feeling of beauty that warms me through
C D
I don't know what to call it... but I'm so tha---nkful
G C D G
It brought me love, light and peace..... in the form of you.
G C D G
It brought me the love, light and peace.... that is you.